FORM ASSOCIATION TO FIGHT FOR CHANCE TO DEVELOP OIL LAND

Petroleum Interests Organize at San Francisco—To Affiliate 300,000 Is Plan

(Special to The Republican) SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—The Oil Industry Association, an organization which aims to enlist the support of every concern in California directly or indirectly interested in the petroleum industry, sprung into being at the Palace hotel this afternoon for the avowed purpose of conducting an educational campaign amongst congressmen and the public at large to prevent what they term the concentration of great oil producing regions in the San Joaquin Valley.

The association will conduct a persistent but not vindictive campaign to have repealed the laws withholding from entry oil lands of the state which were passed after President Taft's withdrawal order was made.

According to addresses made today, it will aim for an ultimate membership of 300,000, including bankers, oil producers, and stockholders, all classes of oil consumers and even the laborers in the oil fields.

The permanent officers elected to lead the organization were: Roy N. Bishop, of the Palace hotel; president; Herbert Morshead, President of the London Anglo-Persian National Bank; treasurer; and L. E. Dunn of Oakland, secretary. President Bishop, then named thirteen members of the executive committee, seven others to be named at later meeting.

The executive committee members named were: Stanley Morshead, San Francisco; Clarence Berry, San Francisco; J. F. Carlton, Oakland; Louis Titus, Oakland; Dan Murphy, Los Angeles; W. L. Valentine, Los Angeles; W. J. Schultz, Taft; Tom O'Donnell, Los Angeles; W. O. Maxwell, Taft; R. N. Bishop, San Francisco; L. R. Doan, Oakland; J. W. Garrison, San Luis Obispo; and Al Geberson, San Luis Obispo.

"We must all work diligently to protect our rights," declared ex-Governor James N. Gillett of Oakland, in out-

CALL MEETINGS IN COPPER DISTRICT

Strikers Hope to Reach Basis of Settlement By Arbitration

CLIFTON, Ariz., Oct. 25.—Mass meetings have been called for tomorrow in Clifton, Morenci and Metcalf to consider a plan of arbitration for settlement of wage difficulties in the strike of the employees of the Arizona, the Shanno and the Detroit Copper companies.

The meetings are to be held under the auspices of the strikers. All citizens, as well as strikers, without regard for union affiliations, have been invited to attend.

Sheriff J. G. Cash today gave out a summary of the strikers' proposition to arbitrate, identical with that announced previously by the committee representing the miners at El Paso. This is expected to be discussed at tomorrow's meeting.

Should the meeting approve the proposition, it is planned to submit it by telegraph to the managers of the mines now at El Paso.

Calling of the mass meetings followed day of parades through the three camps by strikers.

A mass meeting announced for late today to hear the proposition given by the mine managers to the strikers' committee at the conclusion of their conference last Saturday, was called off.

Day in War Area

Heavy fighting characterizes the operations in the Balkans, on the Rossouf front from the gulf of Riga down through Galicia, on the Austro-Italian line, and in the Champagne region of France.

In the Balkans, the Teutonic Allies and Bulgarians are still gaining ground against the Serbs almost everywhere, but in the south the French have stepped into the arena and have decisively defeated the Bulgarians at Krivojatz, on the Salonic-Kish railway, southeast of Velen, giving them control of the line some forty miles to the north of the Greek frontier.

In Champagne, the French are busily engaged in warding off German counter-attacks delivered with desperate determination against a section of an important salient, known as "La Courtine," which the French had previously taken. Some of their trenches in the center have been re-captured by the Germans, but latest reports are that the opposing forces were still fighting fiercely.

The Russians in the Riga and Drinsk regions of Northwest Russia have again resumed the offensive against the Germans, but Berlin asserts that all counter-attacks there have been repulsed, except in the region of Illyokat, where, in the face of superior forces, the Germans were forced to withdraw to the western bank of the Illyokat river.

A gain of some ground west of Komarov for the Germans is recorded by Berlin as an offset to the Illyokat retreat.

In addition to the heavy fighting in the eastern sector of the Austro-Italian battle line which Rome anticipates shortly will result in the capture of Gorizia by the Italians, there have been three hostile air raids over Venice. In none of these was great material damage done, although one church suffered severely and only three persons were injured.

Germany admits the sinking of the German armored cruiser Prinz Adalbert by an Allied submarine off Libau, and announces that only a few of her crew, which in peace times totalled 337 men, were saved.

TURKS MASSACRE ARMENIAN PEOPLE NEAR BLACK SEA

LONDON, Oct. 26, 3:04 a.m.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Odessa says: "The Turks have massacred the entire Armenian population of Kerasund, on the Black Sea."

Kerasund lies seventy miles west of Trebizond in a rocky promontory. The town has a population of 24,000. The number of Armenians in the town is not known. Trebizond does a large business in the exportation of nuts and nut kernels.

ESCAPES PRISON; GETS MARRIED; IS AGAIN IN CUSTODY

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—George Oberton was arrested while on his honeymoon here today and returned to the state penitentiary to serve out a life sentence for murder. Oberton escaped three months ago after serving fourteen years of his sentence for killing a Chicago policeman in 1901. He was married here four days ago, but concealed his prison record from his wife. Oberton declares he is innocent of the crime for which he was sentenced.

ATTORNEYS ARGUE AGAINST OWN CASES IN FRIENDLY SUIT

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—G. B. Marks, Green, city attorney for the Pacific and attorney for the Pacific Improvement Company, tried placed in the District Court of Appeal today and each argued the other's case, in order that enough applications were filed to secure the association sufficient attorneys to carry on its defense. Some of its larger operators expressed their willingness to accept special assessments should more funds prove necessary.

Most of the land concerned in the plans of the association is included in a 23,000 acre area in Kern and San Luis Obispo counties, comprising the Midway and Sunset oil fields.

BOY CONFESSES TO A MURDER

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—Charles Mack Wipham, 16 years of age, confessed to-day, the police say, that he helped Joseph Merrick, also 16 years of age, to kill Joseph Osborne, an aged recluse, who was found murdered in his shack in a Chicago suburb last Wednesday night. Merrick denied implication in the murder. According to the story the police say Wipham told them, the murder was the culmination of an attempted robbery which precipitated a fight.

In the strike of the Clifton-Morenci-Metcalf copper mines, to be submitted tomorrow to mass meetings of strikers and citizens of those camps for final settlement, mine managers have formed part of the synopsis prepared by the strikers' committee, but not submitted to the mine managers during the conference last week.

After the conference, the strikers' committee explained that the synopsis had not been submitted because the managers had instead handed them a letter asserting the strikers' committee was influenced by the Western Federation of Miners and containing the following summary and proposition: "We re-state the position taken by us at the previous conference and which position we intend to maintain: 'First, that under no conditions will we consent to be dominated by the Western Federation of Miners under whatever name or title it may assume. Second, when the employees have returned to work on the same conditions as existed prior to the strike, and normal conditions have been restored, the companies will be glad to discuss with their employees, as they have been willing to do, any grievances or other questions which the employees wish to take up with the managers.'

The directors of the company are expected to approve the action of the stockholders within a few days. There are about 350 stockholders in the company.

BIG MONEY IN MAKING FORDS

Enormous Stock Dividend Follows 50 Per Cent Cash Melon

WALKERSVILLE, Md., Oct. 25.—Distribution of a 600 per cent stock dividend to shareholders of the Ford Motor Company of Canada, equivalent to the present price of the stock to $18,000,000, was recommended by the company's stockholders at their annual meeting today.

This action followed the payment of a 50 per cent cash dividend which was made by the company to its stockholders within the last two weeks.

The stock dividend is recommended as part of the plan approved by the company's stockholders for increasing the company's capital stock from $1,000,000 to $18,000,000.

The directors of the company are expected to approve the action of the stockholders within a few days.

There are about 350 stockholders in the company.

RAILWAYS REFUSE TO ARBITRATE

BOSTON, Oct. 25.—Efforts of Mayor Curley to stop the strike of 1,600 freightmen failed today, officials of the New York, New Haven and Hartford, the Boston and Albany, and the Boston and Maine railroads refusing to employ the strikers. The strikers stated that they were willing to submit their demands for wage increases and reduced working hours to arbitration.

The railroads announced tonight that the conditions in their freight sheds were again normal.

HONOR FOR SURGEON

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Surgeon General Blue of the Public Health service today announced the appointment of Surgeon George W. McCoy as director of the Hygienic Laboratory here, succeeding Dr. John F. Anderson, who recently resigned. Dr. McCoy now is in charge of the leprosy investigation at the hospital at Molokai, Hawaii, and comes here to accept what the Public Health Service considers the most important laboratory work in the United States.

COTTON REPORT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Cotton ginned prior to October 18 amounted to 6,715,347 bales, the census bureau announced. Round bales included 44,422; sea round 40,237.

U. S. GOVERNMENT MAY COMPLAIN OF GERMAN AGENTS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—If the state department determines that Robert Fay is telling the truth in his story to the New York police of how he, a lieutenant in the German army, was sent to this country by the German secret service for the purpose of disabling by explosives steamers leaving American ports for Europe, the matter will probably be made the subject of vigorous representations to the German government.

State department officials were much interested today in press accounts of the confession said to have been made to Police Commissioner Woods. It was said that a report on the case was expected tomorrow from agents of the secret service who assisted in arresting Fay and his alleged accomplices.

The American government, the officials said, would regard such an action as "a tribute to the German secret service as an offense against the United States of a grave character."

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Details of a plan to hamper the shipment of munitions of war to the Allies, by placing clock-worked bombs on the rudders of ships, so timed that the ships would be disabled on their way across the Atlantic, were disclosed today in the confession of one of five men charged in a complaint filed with a United States commissioner, with conspiracy to violate a federal statute.

Following upon the confession of Robert Fay, a lieutenant of the Sixteenth Saxony infantry, who admitted that he came to this country last April through an agreement with the German secret service, to blow up or disable steamers laden with war supplies for the Allies, William T. Ryan, chief of the secret service, filed tonight before United States Commissioner Houghton a complaint in which not only Fay, but four other men, are charged with promoting the conspiracy. The hearing on the federal charge was set for November 4.

Fay confessed that while on the battlefield he talked with his superior officers about a device to blow up ships, that later his idea of coming to America and carrying his scheme through was well received by the German secret service, that he came well enough supplied with money to act on his own authority, and that he talked with Captain von Papen, military attaché of the German embassy, about the plans, but they had refused to have anything to do with it.

Fay, according to the confession, had talked with his superior officers about a device to blow up ships, that later his idea of coming to America and carrying his scheme through was well received by the German secret service, that he came well enough supplied with money to act on his own authority, and that he talked with Captain von Papen, military attaché of the German embassy, about the plans, but they had refused to have anything to do with it.

"I am confident that those who are quoting the president can not show any authority for so doing, and that they would not care to do before the people of California the entire article, written by Mr. Wilson in 1910 and from which they have assembled a few garbled excerpts in an effort to make it appear that the president is opposed to non-partisanship in state affairs."

"The attempt to quote President Wilson as opposed to the adoption of non-partisanship in the selection of state officials of California is based upon a bold misrepresentation of views expressed by him in the North American Review for May, 1910. This misrepresentation is so unscrupulous that no Democrat or other supporter of the president should be misled by it."

Collector Scott's Attitude.

J. J. Scott, collector of internal revenue at San Francisco, condemned the attempt to make it appear that President Wilson is against the non-partisan measures. Collector Scott said:

"The attempt to quote President Wilson as opposed to the adoption of non-partisanship in the selection of state officials of California is based upon a bold misrepresentation of views expressed by him in the North American Review for May, 1910. This misrepresentation is so unscrupulous that no Democrat or other supporter of the president should be misled by it."

There is no occasion for parties in state or municipal affairs, particularly since our United States senators are elected by direct vote of the people.

"That the people of California are non-partisan, was certainly demonstrated at the last state election, when John B. Curtin, the Democratic nominee for governor, did not receive even the registered Democratic vote, but received all the registered Republican votes, which would have been elected governor, but Johnson received more votes than Fredericks and Curtin together.

At the same time it was significant that while Johnson was elected governor, James D. Phelan, his Republican opponent running third."

John O. Davis, collector of the port, declared emphatically that he was for the non-partisan line.

"I will support," says the collector, "because I believe that it is a good thing for the people of California and for the country if it is a good thing for the Democratic party."

John B. Elliott, collector of the port at Los Angeles, also announced himself as unqualified in favor of the bill.

"I shall support the bill," said Collector Elliott, "and use whatever influence I have to bring about its passage. I am confident that it will be ratified at the polls."

Justice Wardell, surveyor of the port, said:

"I am for the bill heartily, both from a financial point of view and from the standpoint of patriotism. The time has come when we should eliminate all partisanship in the election of state, county and municipal officials in California."

WILSON SUPPORTERS REPUDIATE MISUSE OF WILSON ARTICLE

Scott, Barry, Davis and Others Declare for Non-partisanship in State Affairs

(Special to the Republican)

SAN FRANCISCO, October 25.—The efforts of the leaders of the referendum campaign against the non-partisan election law to make it appear that President Wilson is opposed to non-partisanship in state affairs has been repudiated by practically all of the President's appointees who are holding prominent Federal offices in California. Almost without exception these Federal officials announced today that they intended to support the non-partisan bills at the election tomorrow and that they believed that the effort to place the President in opposition to the issue have been unwarranted and absolutely unauthorized.

Collector Scott's Attitude.

J. J. Scott, collector of internal revenue at San Francisco, condemned the attempt to make it appear that President Wilson is against the non-partisan measures. Collector Scott said:

MURDER CHARGE AGAINST POLICE

Must Answer for Death of Boy Who Refused to Halt

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 25.—Police Sergeant William Cahill and Patrolman Samuel Shammo were charged today with the murder of Chester Nolen, the youth who was killed by the same bullet that wounded his companion, Frank Ward, when the officers opened fire on the boy's Friday, because they failed to stop their motorcycle in obedience to a call to halt. Police detectives previously had asked for a complaint charging the policemen with manslaughter. This was done after a coroner's jury had returned a verdict declaring the shooting unjustified and holding Cahill and Shammo responsible for Nolen's death. But the district attorney refused, and instead, issued a complaint charging murder, which was worn to the dead boy's mother, Mrs. A. W. Nolen. Cahill and Shammo were arraigned immediately and preliminary hearing was set for Wednesday. In answer to a question by attorneys for the accused officers, Thomas Leo Woolwine, district attorney, declared he would vigorously oppose an application for bail at that time. Defense attorneys argued that as

TO EXCLUDE ALIENS FROM N. Y. EXCHANGE

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Members of the New York Cotton Exchange today at a meeting called to consider proposed amendments to the by-laws curtailing the privileges of aliens elected to membership after November 1, 1915, decided to vote on the proposal on October 27. The purpose of the proposed change, it was stated by the officials, was to make the exchange a distinctly American institution. The change would prevent activities in the cotton market during present international complications which are said to be contemplated by foreign agents.

One bullet killed Nolen and wounded Ward, only one of the policemen could possibly have been responsible for the killing, and advised as a reason why bail should be accorded. But Woolwine pointed out the testimony of the inquest, which showed that both officers fired several shots. Both officers used revolvers of identical caliber.

Cahill and Shammo, who surrendered to the police yesterday, on request of Claire Snively, chief of police, were removed to the county jail.

Frank Ward, the wounded boy, was still alive tonight.

HAVE NOT PAID BACK TO U. S. GOVERNMENT

BOSTON, Oct. 25.—More than 200 New Englanders who borrowed money from the United States government through banks in Europe during the declaration of war, have failed to return it. Charles B. Stecker, assistant United States treasurer, announced here today.

In accordance with the plan announced by the government, the assistant treasurer said that legal measures would be taken to collect the money.

Stecker declared that persons of foreign birth have been more prompt in their payments than native Americans.

HOW THIN PEOPLE CAN PUT ON FLESH

Thin men and women—that big, healthy, filling dishes you ate last night. What became of all the fat, delicious nourishment it contained? You haven't gained in weight one ounce. That food passed from your body like unburned coal through an open grate. The material that makes up your food doesn't work and stick, and the plain fact is you hardly get enough nourishment from your meals to pay for the cost of cooking. This is true of thin folks, the world over. Your nutritive organs, your function of assimilation, are probably ready out of gear and need reconstruction.

Cut out the foolish foods and funny sawdust diets. Cut out everything but the meals you are eating and eat with every one of those single Sargol tablets. In two weeks many a difference. Let the scales be the judge. Five to eight good solid pounds of healthy, "sargol" fat may be the net result. Sargol aims to change weak, stagnant blood into a million of fresh new red blood corpuscles to give your blood a strong power to deliver every ounce of fat-making material in your food to every part of your body. Sargol too, mixes with your food to prepare it for the body's assimilation in a uniform form. Thin people tell how they have gained all the way from 10 to 20 pounds a month while taking Sargol and say that the new flesh stays put. Sargol tablets are a careful combination of six of the best known elements known to chemistry. They come in tablets, are pleasant, harmless and inexpensive, and San Joaquin Drug Co., Webster Bros., Inc., Patterson Black Pharmacy and all other good druggists will sell them at a nominal price to absolute guarantee of weight instead of money back as found in every large package.

Sure Way To Get Bid of Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. That destroys it entirely. To do this, just repeat four ounces of plain ordinary cold avion; apply it at night when retiring, just enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in. In the morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be shiny, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid avion at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

NEW REGULATIONS ABOUT PASSPORTS

U. S. Government to Take Care to Avoid Neutrality Disputes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—A new policy was announced tonight by the state department with reference to the issuance of American passports to writers who intend to visit the war zones of Europe. Every effort is to be made to prevent the misuse of the American passport for unnatural powers. The text of the announcement follows:

"The number of newspaper writers who have applied for passports has caused the department to rule that thereafter it will issue passports to writers who contemplate visiting belligerent countries only when they are regularly accredited to the department by responsible journals or recognized press associations.

"The department will not issue passports to individuals who are paid or expect to be paid by the agents of foreign governments for writer which they may publish.

"Before issuing passports to writers, the department must be assured that their purposes are of a neutral character.

"The department will not issue passports to writers who contemplate going from the territory of one belligerent country to that of the enemy.

"The object of this ruling is to insure the continued neutrality of the United States and to prevent individuals from putting their safety in jeopardy."

CANNOT CONSIDER LOCAL CONDITIONS

Immigration Official's Power Limited By
Supreme Court

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Immigration officials were today shown by the Supreme court of the power of excluding aliens because, in their opinion, commercial depression at the place of destination might cause the aliens to become public charges? Some Russian immigrants, destined to Portland, Ore., were ordered released from custody in which they were held for deportation. The decision reverses a policy of the immigration service.

"The immigration law deals with the immigration law deals with admission to the United States and not to Portland," said Justice Holmes. "It would be an amazing argument for immigration officials to refuse admission to the United States because the labor market in the United States was overburdened, and yet that would be more reasonable than refusal to admit because of depressed conditions in one city."

SAYS HAITIANS HAVE CEASED RESISTANCE

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Resistance to American authority in Haiti has entirely disappeared, according to E. C. Voigt, until recently a member of the crew of the battleship Connecticut, and C. H. Knight, a private in the Marine Corps, who arrived today.

"When the forces were first landed, we found the natives had been told by their leaders that bullets from American rifles would not hurt them, that they were simply bluffs," Voigt said. "That accounted, I believe, for the early stand made against us. As soon as the news that American bullets would kill spread about, resistance fell off amazingly."

COMPLAIN OF RATES ON PANAMA RAILWAY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Representatives of the Lickenbach Steamship Company of New York protested to the Secretary Garrison against freight rates proposed by the Panama Railway across the Isthmus while the canal is closed to earth slides.

Should the rates be enforced, the shipping men told Mr. Garrison, it would compel them to discontinue service between the two coasts until the canal is reopened.

Secretary Garrison directed department officials to aid the steamship men in preparing a complete statement of the rates complained of and took the question under advisement.

BEGIN WORK ON TELEPHONE RATES

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—Investigation of the rates, tolls, rentals, charges and regulations of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company in California was begun here today by the State Railroad Commission as a preliminary to a complete revision and readjustment asked by the telephone company. A score of lawyers and experts representing various interests and municipalities were present. It was predicted that the investigation will continue over a period of several months.

"GIVE A JOB" NEW SLOGAN TO AID UNEMPLOYED

Furnishing of Odd Jobs Around Homes Is Urged By Clayton

Place Crews On Street Work of City This Afternoon

"Give a job." The adoption of this expression for the business aims of Fresno is advocated by Thomas Clayton, secretary of the Municipal Employment Bureau, as a method of solving the unemployed problem. An extension of the idea for residents in securing men to odd jobs around the homes is also urged.

Opposition of this kind will assure more regular means for a great many jobs, in the opinion of Clayton, who further points out that the burden of work and expense will not fall so heavily on the city as it does at present. Said Mr. Clayton:

"Work for one day around a home will provide a man with sufficient money for meals and lodging to make him self-supporting for two, three or four days. All that need be done to secure a reliable man is to telephone to No. 754, the employment bureau, and leave the order."

The "Give a job" idea has taken hold of the East. In Cleveland alone

Decline to Pay Car Fare; Fined $5 By Magistrate

East C. J. O'Neal and A. B. Sowers just as each yesterday for refusing to pay 5 cents fare on the Blue Stone line of the Fresno Traction Company. The men located the car at Zapp's Park Saturday morning and refused to pay their fare. The car was stopped at Belmont Avenue, and the men refused to leave. E. P. Stanford, a special officer, was on the car and placed the men under arrest. Yesterday Judge Briggs held them 5 each.

Eleven jobs were provided in one week, other cities have done much to solve this problem of unemployment by utilizing this idea. Men were employed for almost every conceivable line of work in the eastern cities.

Begin Street Work.

Views of the unemployed will be played to work this afternoon under E. H. Chapman, superintendent of streets, in chopping weeds and elevating the gutters throughout the city. About twenty are expected to form the initial crew. A similar plan was followed last winter.

In view of taking up the work a score of men were questioned yesterday. A hearty endorsement was given the plan. Statements were emphatically made by the unemployed that they greatly preferred to work for their board and lodging than to remain dependent on the city.

"We do not want charity. We want work," was the reply given to the inquirer.

A two-day meal ticket and lodging for two nights will be given for the work. The usual price of a meal is fifteen cents in the work of the bureau.

PROMISES TO LEAVE INTOXICANTS ALONE

W. B. Bridges Granted Probation After Giving Court Pledge of Sobriety

Promising that he would not only abstain from the use of intoxicating liquors, but that he would keep away from saloons and those who indulge in the use of intoxicants, W. B. Bridges was granted probation yesterday by Judge Austin, his probationary period to continue for two years. Should he violate any of these conditions he will be called before the court and sentence imposed upon his plea of guilty.

Bridges, while under the influence of liquor, quarreled with James Williams in Laton and when Charles Camp attempted to separate them, Bridges attacked him with a knife.

WOMAN FORGER IS TAKEN INTO COURT

Mrs. Hazel Gordon and Child Removed to Detention Home

Mrs. Hazel Gordon, returned from Stanford Sunday by Detective Truxas on a charge of forgery, was arraigned before Police Judge Briggs yesterday. The specific charge on which she was arraigned was that of passing a forged check on Badin & Kamp, W. R. Price, cashier of the Union National Bank, in compensation in the case. Mrs. Gordon passed numerous forged checks in this city, amounting to $134. Last night she and her infant child were removed to the county detention home. Mrs. Gordon's preliminary examination will be set later.

WOULD CARE FOR TWO INCORRIGIBLES

Probation officers have signed a petition to the Superior Court declaring that Ralph Tochinski—who is now in the detention home—is an incorrigible and have requested the court to declare him a ward of the probation court.

The same application is made in the case of Leora McCloskey of Del Rey.

And now we come to Point 7—

ANTI-KAMMIA TABLETS STOP The Pains of Sciatica

Dr. E. O. Underwood says that there is no expression of neuralgia which is more distressing than that known as Sciatica. The cause of this condition is usually exposure to cold and dampness. One of the most effective remedies for this condition is to stop the cause that some writers include in the varieties of neuralgias.

The treatment includes remedies to counteract the cause of the disease, as well as measures looking to the relief of pain. Whatever treatment may be employed, two things must be borne in mind—the patient must be kept as free from cold as possible and the tablets should be given every two or three hours, and the patient must be warned against going out in inclement weather.

Anti-Kamnia Tablets may be obtained at all druggists in any quantity. No worth is too small. Ask for A. K. Tablets.

Headaches, Neuralgias, and all Pains they give prompt relief.

The regular meeting of the police and commissioners will be held Thursday night, and is the date set for the trial of C. E. Edwards, former patrolman, who tendered his resignation after charges had been filed by Chief of Police Goehring. The case has been hanging fire for several months. There is the regular routine business to come before the commissioners.

They will make a report concerning the progress made by the Japanese in California to the people back home.

The delegation will visit Mayor Snow and the Chamber of Commerce, limiting Wednesday. A visit also will be paid to the plants of the Republic and Herald.

BUILDING CONDITIONS BEST HERE, HE SAYS

A. G. Gibson Talks to Fresno Building Trades Council

Considered from the standpoint of building conditions, Fresno outranks all other cities of the state. A. G. Gibson, assistant secretary and auditor to the California Building Trades Council, told members of the Fresno Building Trades Council at their meeting in Union Hall last night. The building activity here is greater than elsewhere, considering the size of the city, Mr. Gibson said.

Gibson's work takes him to all parts of the state and to all the more important cities and he has had a good opportunity to note the conditions. He told the Fresno men that he believed the Fresno men to be on better footing than most, and complimented them on their good attendance at meetings and on the interest taken in the work of the body. He also expressed himself as highly pleased with the qualifications of the members. In short, the Fresno council is in a healthy condition, he said.

FOUR INJURED WHEN AUTO CLIMBS STEPS

Mrs. Wyatt Pushes Wrong Pedal; Car Jumps Over Curb

Two little children and two women were injured yesterday afternoon in front of the post office in an accident, when the automobile being driven by Mrs. W. M. Wyatt, 1656 E. 6th street, went forward in place of backward, jumped the curb and started to climb the steps on the Van Ness side of the Federal building.

The injured are:

Miss Sonnecker, Christian Seiden, a waitress, with offices in the Federal building, leg broken.

Miss Kates, residing near Eastern, ankle bruised.

Mrs. Kates' infant child was bruised about the head, while her 3-year-old daughter sustained injuries to her knee.

In the automobile with Mrs. Wyatt was Mrs. Frank Leibson, 1656 E. 6th street. Mrs. Wyatt intended to back away from the curb. Making a mistake, she pressed her foot on the wrong pedal and the automobile shot forward.

The light machine went over the sidewalk, striking a baby buggy being pushed by Mrs. Kates. The baby buggy was smashed but fortunately the child was only slightly injured. Mrs. Kates and her two children were treated by Dr. L. R. Wilson.

Miss Sonnecker was walking down the steps of the post office when struck. She fell lengthwise of the steps and thereby escaped more serious injuries. Miss Sonnecker's broken limb was set by Dr. A. H. Beppner.

FRESNO POST OFFICE CLOSES GOOD YEAR

Mail Order Business Shows Decrease for the Valley Country

Uncle Samuel is doing a rushing business at the Fresno post office, according to a report made public by Postmaster Earle Hughes yesterday afternoon. The total amount of money received at the Fresno office, which serves as a depository for 125 offices in the valley district, during the past fiscal year is $1,197,000, while $1,151,810 was paid out, leaving a balance of $35,360 in favor of the local office.

There were 61,342 domestic money orders issued at the local office during the year. The money sent out under this branch totaled $468,125.50, while the foreign orders number 1,327 with a total value of $11,151.00. There were 63,375 domestic orders, cashed at a value of $556,738.61, while the foreign orders taken in numbered only 227, at a total value of $8,722.53.

Hughes said that by comparing former fiscal year reports with this one, and in view of the fact that business is falling off in the valley, formerly a number houses in Chicago and New York received thousands of dollars that now remain in California. This is probably due to the better service afforded the customer by local concerns, which are now able to supply any kind of high grade goods desired by people in the San Joaquin Valley.

The war conditions money orders are not issued at present to Serbia, Bulgaria, Austria, Turkey or Belgium. Mexico is also off the list of international money order customers.

FRESNO TENDERFOOT MAKES RICH STRIKE

George F. Drake Opens Bonanza in Kenosha Mine in Grass Valley

George F. Drake, a former resident of Fresno, has struck it rich in the mining game he is a novice. Up at the Kenosha mine, it was under bond to George W. Rane, of San Francisco and he fell in with Drake. The latter not only had never been inside a mine, but he knew nothing about the mining game. He listened to the story told by Rane with the result that he took a bond on the Kenosha. Then he went to work.

The mine had to be unwatered. Its pumping facilities were inadequate, but its new owner had nerve and he succeeded in pumping the water from the property. Then he set men to drifting on the 400 level. The result of a blast was uncovered running in value from $40 to $50 per pound or $100,000 to the ton, a wonderful bonanza. Drake has the bond alone on the property.

The Hotel Fresno is the second hotel in the state to install an organ of this character.

Seales, a negro, on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. Seales was held to answer in the superior court. No defense was made. D. T. Wimpe, an attorney, appeared for Seales. At the time of the shooting Seales declared that Gristi was trying to steal chickens.

PRESIDENT FOR BILLS

The members of President Wilson's official family in California have unit-ed in statements repudiating the gar-bled misquotations by which the Dem-o-catic secretary of the joint Party com-mittee had sought to commit

President Wilson against the non-parti-san law. The presidential ap-pointees on the contrary announce that they personally favor the law, and that they believe President Wil-son would himself vote for it, if he were a citizen of California.

It is an open secret that this action by the California representatives of the national administration was taken after consultation with Washington and was authorized. In fact, we are not guessing when we assert that this is the case. The statement is there-fore official, and is as near to a definite announcement, by President Wilson, in favor of these bills, as it permits himself to make on local state issues.

This settles the matter, so far as official Democratic opinion is concerned. Indeed, practically every Demo-cratic of prominence in California was already for the non-partisan law. The only notable exception was John B. Gurn, who was the last Democratic candidate for governor—and got hardly any Democratic votes. The whole national administration is for the law, Senator Phelan has taken no active part, but he is understood to agree with the president and his associates. His late competitor for the Democratic nomination for senator, together with the Democratic leader in the as-sembly, has been campaigning the state for the bills, as have the last two Democratic candidates for lieuten-ant-governor. And this only begins the list. So far as the Democratic party is concerned, all its leadership and most of its membership is for these bills.

HOW TO VOTE

The Republican publishes in two different places this morning an ab-solved marked ballot, suggesting how the voter ought to be cast at to-day's election. A summary of the same advice with brief explanations may be given here.

NOT AGAINST OTHERS

An attempt is being made to mis-use the withdrawal of support by the state tax commission from amendment No. 9 as a hoodoo against all the other amendments. Of course the real significance is exactly the opposite. It indicates, in the first place, that if, for any reason, any measure had turned out to be doubtful, the administration supporters would not hesitate to say so and to advise the people to vote against it. It demonstrates further the unwavering policy of the present administra-tion to keep government absolutely within the control of the people. The provisions of this amendment, except in this one respect, are favored by the very commission which now with-draws its support. There is absolutely no objection to the amendment, except the doubt now raised of the applicability of the referendum to tax laws under it. Rather than risk passing such an amendment while it is subject to this doubt, the tax commission recommends postponing for two years a great and necessary reform. Surely this demonstration of solicitude for maintaining governmental control ab-solutely in the hands of the people is the strongest possible justification for confidence in the recommendations from similar sources on other matters.

REVERSE ARGUMENTS

The strongest arguments in favor of the non-partisan bills are the arguments which have been used against these bills. The joint parties committee complains of lack of money and organization with which to campaign to retain the financial capacity and organized efficiency of parties. The very fact that the combined organizations of the Republican and the Democratic parties have been unable to raise campaign funds, provide speakers, or organize a state contest, simply demonstrated by actual trial that the considerations for which they desire state party organizations, retained, do not exist. In the same way, the appeals for party responsibility and party politics fall in the face of the fact that organized responsibility and definitely formulated policies only entered into California politics when the influence of the national party organizations went out. The only excuses offered for retaining parties in state affairs are based on the claim that parties are the only means of doing what in fact parties have always failed and are now failing to do.

CONSERVATIVES

The best possible demonstration that state divisions do not correspond to national party lines was unconsciously given by the San Francisco Chronicle's appeal yesterday to the "Conservat-ives" to turn out and vote. "When-ever the Conservatives turn out and vote," says the Chronicle, "they win."

These "Conservatives" are not Repub-licans, and they are not Democrats. They constitute a minority of both of these parties, and there is not the slightest difference, for the purposes of the Chronicle's appeal, between Conser-vative Republicans and Conser-vative Democrats. They constitute a party by themselves, who believe in the same principles and vote the same way. To split them apart on na-tional party lines is quite as absurd as to attempt to split the Progressive majority on the same party lines. We do indeed have two parties in California, and the Chronicle correctly calls the name of the party of which it is the spokesman the "Conservatives." When the non-partisan bills carry, these "Conservatives" will be able to act together, in open and organized fashion, just as they are doing now. The Republican and the Democratic parties, as state divisions of the people of California, are fictions. There is no such thing. But the "Conservative" and the Progressive parties in California are very real things.

The non-partisan laws will clarify the situation by giving those who long together effective means of acting together. The absurd system of at-tempting to use national parties for state purposes has had no use, except to keep artificially apart those who make the necessary technical changes. If the voters on Nos. 1, 7, and 11 should be unanimously Yes, the voters on Nos. 3 and 9 should be generally, though perhaps not so unanimously No. No. 3, judging the terms of superior judges, is indefensible.

The advice of the cynics, "When in doubt, vote No," does not apply, even in their own opinions, to some of the measures on today's ballot. There are three measures, Nos. 4, 7, and 11, which are unanimously favored by both conservatives and progressives, pro-administration and anti-adminis-tration organs. These three, No. 4, term of judges filling vacancies, No. 7, initiative and referendum, and No. 11, county charters, ought to pass unanimously, since there is no opposition to them. They involve technical mat-ters rather than general policy, and every one who has studied them favors them. Such matters, to be sure, ought not to be in the constitution, and it ought not to be necessary for the people to vote on them. But, un-fortunately, they are in the constitution, under a system established by our fathers before most of us were born, and there is no other way to make the necessary technical changes.

If the voters on Nos. 1, 7, and 11 should be unanimously Yes, the voters on Nos. 3 and 9 should be generally, though perhaps not so unanimously No. No. 3, judging the terms of superior judges, is indefensible.

SHELL PIPE LINE TO BE COMPLETED SOON

Will Be Ready to Take Oil to Martinez Nov. 1; Has Modern Equipment

COALINGA, Oct. 25.—The engineers of the Valley Pipe Line company will complete their work along the pipe line by November 1. So far the pipe line appears to be working splendidly, according to the engineer's report.
The new line is 157 miles long, being the oilfields at Calella, the tank farm on section 4, 26-16, to Martinez the terminal, where an up-to-date refinery has been built and equipped with the latest modern appliances to reduce the crude oil to the many by-products known to the modern chemist.
The capacity of the line is 25, 000 barrels and more, per day, of 21 hours. It is expected that this line will supply the demand created by the refinery. The Shell Company has expended over $25,000,000 on this pipeline and refinery. In the past few years, and will further strengthen its position in tank steamers for use on the Pacific to meet a growing trade in all varieties of oil.

GEOLOGISTS REPORT ON COALINGA FIELD

Evidence Is Presented of Oil in Western Foothills; Oil Notes

COALINGA, Oct. 25.—Bulletin 607 of the United States Geological Survey, compiled by Robert Anderson and Holbert W. Peck, is being distributed to those interested. The main purpose of the report is to present the geologic evidences of the existence of petroleum in the formation along the west foot hills that border the San Joaquin Valley between the Coalinga oil fields as far north as Livermore Pass. The report discusses the possibility of oil existing in commercial quantities in the region covered by the report. The work is very interestingly handled. The writers have presented additional geological facts of interest to other miners, those interested in the other minerals that are to be found through the section covered by the bulletin.

There is considerable work going on in the south part of the Devil's Den district and through Antelope Valley to the south of the Producers Transportation Company's Junction Station, within plain view of the road south to McKittrick. The report states that four new rigs are in sight from the wagon road. Other new rigs are scattered among the low hills. Much investigation is being taken in this new workshop.

The Coast Range Oil Company, one of the first companies to develop oil lands in this field, is now preparing to clean out its old wells on section 17, 18-15. There are six old wells, and of these were flowing over the casing heads. The oil is of light gravity, 35B. Three wells will be cleaned out at once and put on the beam. It is reported that eight new wells will

An EASY WAY TO END
CATARRH FOREVER

Simple Home Treatment Removes Germs
of This Dangerous Disease.

The reason why so many people who suffer from Catarrh never seem able to get cured is that they are continually seeking the implements of spraying dusting, spraying, rinsing, cleaning, etc.
Such things do open up the swollen membranes and clear the head temporarily by acts stopping for a while the disgusting blowing, spitting and choking that they never cease. To drive these germs out you have got down to its real cause. Catarrh is a germ disease.

The air is always full of catarrh germs thrown off by one person and absorbed by another and when the system does not allow to throw off such germs they then attack the lungs.

The Federal Drilling Company, which is now running two rotary drills on the East Side field, reports this as good drilling formation for the improved style of rotary drilling, there being no troublous, easy formation that answers or makes trouble for the rotating drill.

This company has six old wells 2,700

feet deep. The Federal Drilling Company has the contract to carry this hole to 3,000 feet. The drilling is reported to be good at this depth.

The Tay-Pike Company has transferred W. D. Russell from Brea to the Coalinga branch, and he assumes the position of manager, succeeding R. W.
Fuller, resigned.

DUDLEY OIL COMPANY IS BECOMING ACTIVE

Development Work Is Being Carried On in Bel-ridge and Lost Hills

COALINGA, Oct. 25.—R. M. Cook of Lost Hills spent two days in Coalinga during the past week. Cook is superintendent of the Dudley-Dudley Company's interests in the Lost Hills and the Hollister districts. The company has four wells on section 3, 27-21, producing 35B gravity oil. One well on section 9, 27-21, and one well on section 13, 27-20. Dudley and Dudley control about 9,000 acres in and near the Lost Hills district. The recent strike of oil, light gravity, to the south of the Dudley interests, has stimulated the owners of possible oil lands in the district, and considerable development work is contemplated in the very near future. The production of the Dudley wells is reported to be about 7,000 barrels per month. The territory is shallow, known as "post-hole" drilling. The wells range from 400 to 750 feet deep. The Dudley interests will soon commence new development work, will drill six wells and do other development work upon its property.

HALLOWEEN CHARMS ARE PLANNED FOR PRATTVILLE CITIZENS

Mother Witch Not to Be Given Chance to Discard Broomstick for Auto

An evening of entertainment spiced with playful ceremonies and charm-ers' antics is promised the members of the Commercial club by the officials of the City of Prattville at the Hallowe'en party to be held next Saturday night in the club parlors. Jacko'-lanterns with all fashions of grimacing faces will be cleverly arranged about the hall to remind the guests that "the good old Hallowe'en days" are still to be enjoyed in Fresno.
No other decorations will be in keeping with the occasion.

A feature that will prove interesting is that of the woman fortune teller who will be on hand to solve the love problems that may or may not be haunting the minds of the gay "wantto-wed" set. Naturally, this strange old dame will have a stock of information that may be necessary to answer the fears of those who have already crossed the gulf unreturnable, which is another way of saying that anybody may have his fortune told.

The ugliest old witch this side of the Rockies has agreed to stab over an hour or so during her broomstick tour of the various cities. It was whispered yesterday among the directors of Prattville that she will swoop down on the audience from some unseen point at an unexpected moment and instantly begin to wreak a terrible vengeance upon those who fail to do her bidding. Her visit will necessarily fall near the hour of midnight when she may stand near the Mystic well, that promises to bring a welcomed message to some young person who may see reflection of their future mate at the exact moment the clock ticks twelve.

Only club members and their families will be entertained, owing to the fact that the club has a membership of 650. The dance will be informal.
A special policeman will guard the cars, for fear old mother witch might decide to ride home in a touring car instead of on her age-worn broomstick.

Apple cider will be the drink of the evening, while dried apples will be served in generous quantities to those who feign an appetite.

H. T. HUMPHREYS
PLEADS GUILTY

Former School Director Makes Application
for Probation

H. T. Humphreys yesterday, before Judge Austin in the Superior Court, entered a plea of guilty to the charge of embezzling money from the school fund of the city of Fresno, and applied for probation. The application was referred to the probation officer.

Humphreys, who was chairman of the committee on buildings and grounds of the Fresno city board of education, embezzled $6039.90 of the fund which he held in trust. He was arrested October 5, and held to the Superior Court on $3000 bonds on October 21. His arraignment followed yesterday. He has made complete restitution to the city.

He drilled the work to start at an early date. This is shallow light oil territory. The present wells are from 600 to 800 feet deep. There is a paraffin oil sand running through this section estimated depth to be from 1,300 to 2,000 feet. This sand is to be drilled into at an early date. The manager reports that as soon as the first three wells are cleaned out that the other wells will receive like treatment.

The Federal Drilling Company, which is now running two rotary drills on the East Side field, reports this as good
drilling formation for the improved
style of rotary drilling, there being no
troublous, easy formation that answers or makes trouble for the rotating drill.

ferred W. D. Russell from Brea to the Coalinga branch, and he assumes the position of manager, succeeding R. W.
Fuller, resigned.

IN THE LODGE ROOM

Willis F. Clough returned Saturday from Topeka, Kansas, where he had been on his summer vacation. He will be joined by Mrs.
Clough later in the year.

The Kern Trading and Oil Company has its rotary well on section 1, 20-15, down to 2,325 feet. The red rock formation was entered at about 2,200 feet.
The drilling at present is hard and persistent.

The Shell Company, on section 20-15, (K-K) has its rotary hole 2,700
feet deep. The Federal Drilling Company has the contract to carry this hole to 3,000 feet. The drilling is reported to be good at this depth.

Mrs. Wilson was in splendid voice and gave her readings with charming interpretation of the time. A large audience attended the auspices of the club. This will be an "At Home" today at the home of Mrs. H. A. Bates, 1705 Anna street. It is planned as the first gathering of a social nature for the year, and is designed to bring together all the members of the club, old and new, their husbands and friends.

Entertainment for all who attend will be provided, so that each may do the thing he most likes. Attention will be given to the Hallowe'en season in the form of amusements and refreshments. There will be a bonfire on the lawn, with appropriate stunts, and later Hallowe'en games in the house. The "At Home" will include all friends of the club as well as members, a special invitation being extended to the public. A musical program of especial interest is being arranged and will be given by men entirely.

While the primary object of the gathering is sociability, an admission fee of 25 cents will be charged to help swell the funds of the club. The finance committee plans to offer a series of entertainments for the raising of money to carry on the playgrounds work undertaken for the coming year.

The finance committee is composed of Mrs. J. Frank Russell, chairman; Mrs. H. Hart, Mrs. Mabel Poetry, stone, Mrs. H. A. Bates and Mrs. C. A. Gifford, and Mrs. C. H. Griswold, chairman of the club, ex-officio member.

The Fall Home Fixing

With the advent of autumn, every home keeper's thoughts turn to making her abode cozy and cheery and comfortable. Her efforts may be simple or elaborate. They may be limited to freshening the lace or muslin draperies at the windows, to placing a few pots of blooming plants about, to removing scars or scratches from paint or furniture; or they may take the form of extensive purchases of new furniture or floor coverings. But whatever the form of expression this desire may assume, it is there with most of us. And we indulge it according to the capacity or limitations of our purse. And if our purse does not permit this indulgence, we are sometimes to feel a bit disconcerted or rebellious.

But do we need to spend so much on our pocketbook for the freshening of the home this fall? If we have a capacious purse, all well and good; but if we haven't, cannot we circumvent this fact in some way or other? What is the basic idea of this desire to "freshen our home"? Is it not, to some extent, the desire to make them bright and cheery? Is not the room in which the windows are the ultimate are, the hardwood floors rather a soft lustre, the draperies and other accessories, cheery and bright, and the things in them costly or not? And so, if we cannot spend lavishly this autumn to make over our home, can we not look with a critical eye at our surroundings and see if there are not other ways in which we can give a shining brightness that will result in the cheeriness we wish?

One thing that detracts much from the inviting appearance of the home is mismatched or marred furniture, or if tags are used; a dull, shabby floor. The housekeeper who will brighten her furniture and floors till they look like new, make her window draperies fresh and spotless, and her brass bowls if she have any, and her silver shining well do much toward giving her home coziness and cheer. And she can do this without the expenditure of much money.

The makers of paints and varnishes and floor stains have almost worked a revolution in what can be accomplished in the home today through these agencies. At the San Francisco exposition their latest products are on display and to the housewife who has not kept in touch with them they will be a revelation.

Many a housewife thinks that in her room are soft wood or painted or old furniture, making them suitable for rags, or that if her tables or chairs are otherwise pieces of furniture are scratched or not to her liking in finish, she must endure them as they are. But modern invention has overcome all these defects. Stains and paints and varnishes, and methods of using them, have been evolved by which old soft pine floors can be transformed in appearance to beautiful hardwood floors, and old tables and chairs in apparently oak or mahogany. And if this work is done right, these do not look like cheap or poor imitations, but like the real articles they simulate.

I saw a beautiful center table apparently of polished mahogany, that

Lillian Russell's Beauty Talks

By LILLIAN RUSSELL

Eating ought to be a pleasure. If it is not there is something wrong. When the digestive machinery fails to assimilate a normal amount of food it is not in good running order. Disorders and sluggishness are invariably due to the fact that the amount of food consumed is entirely out of proportion with the physical exercise enjoyed.

Athletes can eat and assimilate more food than persons who fail to take physical exercise. Moreover, they derive greater joy and pleasure through eating. And the pleasure of eating is not followed by distress and suffering. They demand more food and their stomachs are able to digest it without trouble or artificial assistance in the form of digestive tablets.

This is a statement which is based upon facts. Recent scientific experiments substantiate it. Observation under the most exact conditions has proven beyond doubt that athletes can eat and assimilate or digest with comfort at least 7 per cent more food than nonathletes. This is a scientific certainty which is clearly indicative of the close relation between physical exercise and the operation of the digestive machinery.

"I always have headaches on Sunday," remarked a woman the other day. Her case is like that of many other women, and men also. She takes exercise and eats more food on Sunday than any other day in the week. "The Sunday dinner is usually the liveliest and most elaborate of the week." People then have more time to spend at the dinner table. It is customary to feast on that day. Unfortunately it is the day when the average person gets the least physical exercise. This combination of circumstances, accounts for the fact that so many people complain of headaches on Sunday. They do not exercise enough to assist their stomachs in digesting all the food they consume.

Do not be troubled with Sunday headaches. You can "let down" from the week's strenuous work and rest without sinking into lethargy or coma. It is remarkable to notice what relief is to be gained by resting in bed but a quarter of one day. In most cases only a few hours will rest and revive inert muscles and bring them back to normal.

This old-fashioned idea of reaction is only applicable to the sick. If you are well you require only the rest you are able to take at intervals.

The Lord never intended His holy day to be a day of distress. It should be one of rest and relaxation.

Keep the body active and get plenty of fresh air and exercise. You can do all this without violating the convictions or the most exacting.

Do not save up your appetite for Sunday dinners and lie around trying to digest them. Make the amount of food you consume proportionate to the exercise you take.

A great many women, especially of the working classes, make Sunday their hardest day in the week. They lay up their little washing of dirty collars and cuffs until Sunday. They do sewing, reading, and if they are clever, a certain amount of walking. That Sunday work gives a certain amount of satisfaction for the reason that they have accomplished something necessary.

Such women do not have time for the Sunday headaches. They are too busy enjoying the day for what it gives them.

It is perhaps only the rich who take time for the Sunday headaches. Many of them do not even go out in their motors for fear of attracting "the motley crowds." They spend the day in knotting at luncheons, teas and dinners; until an unbroken succession overcomes them and headache is the result.

Agility of movement, exercise and nutrition is a cure for all headaches from whatever source derived. Many women do not take the time to be healthy. They are the lethargic, achesy women who demoralize all society they enter by their complaints. If such women would give as much time to exercise as they spend in extravagant complaining they would be surprised in a very short space of time at the change in their physical conditions.

Get headaches out of your head. Stop taking medicines and cure yourself by action. There are a thousand ways to exercise. Choose one of them and enjoy life and health.

Drive your Sunday headaches away by bodily exertion of the health-giving kind.

TALKS ON HEALTH

By DR. W. A. EVANS
Noted Chicago Health Authority

The amount of nutrition required varies with the age, the weight, and the work of the individual. People who do manual work must have more food than is necessary for office workers. A child weighing fifty pounds, usually have much more than one-half as much food as a woman weighing 150 pounds.

In olden times the Volt standard was accepted. Volt said that a man of average weight doing average work should eat about four ounces of protein, about four ounces of carbohydrates, one pound of starch and sugar, or 3,668 calories a day. Prof. Childress of Yale proved that the allowance of food was too great. A lot of college athletes, some of whom won national championships, were fed on about four ounces of protein while a lot of college professors kept in good condition on about that allowance of protein and a decrease of starches, sugars, and fats to two-thirds of the Volt standard.

Smith and Chittenden, allowing for moderate sized man doing moderate work, 3,800 calories and nearly three ounces of protein.

Calories is a measure of the amount of heat produced when the food is burned. When food is eaten, digested, and used in the body, it makes just the amount of heat, or energy which can be calculated as heat, as when it is burned outside the body. The heat is measured by the number of trials. This makes it easy to determine the number of calories in a given food.

The food is placed in an instrument called a calorimeter, purposed for the measurement of heat produced. For this food is heated to turn the body with heat and energy, therefore, a determination of the number of calories in the outfit is determined required. But an engine requires repairs and renewals as well as coal and water. The talking machine requires repairs and renewals.

To remove waste, protein and salts are required. The amount of salts required is not great. A little seasoning in the food, a little fruit, will do. Women who are healthy, they are the lethargic, achesy women who demoralize all society they enter by their complaints. If such women would give as much time to exercise as they spend in extravagant complaining they would be surprised in a very short space of time at the change in their physical conditions.

Fruit Growers State TO MEET IN VISALIA

Forty-Seventh Annual Convention Called for November 18 to 20

Horticultural Commissioners of the several counties in California have been called to meet in state convention at Visalia on November 18 and 19, and the Forty-Seventh Annual Convention of the California State Fruit Growers will assemble at the same place November 18 to 20 inclusive.

The fruit growers convention includes all of the fruit industry and the attendance of growers is expected to be unusually large. In that the program committee is arranging a program that will include topics that will apply to fruits in the San Joaquin Valley and that these topics will be treated by the grower more so than the scientist will. It is believed, have a tendency to draw an extra attendance.

This will be the first state convention of fruit growers held in the San Joaquin Valley since 1912 and will be the fifth one held in the valley since the organization was founded. Fresno has had four of these conventions—one in 1899, 1904, 1905, 1912, while one has been held in Hanford the one in 1904.

Horticultural Commissioner Roulard of Fresno county hopes to have a big delegation from this county to that end he requests that all those who desire to attend to send their names to him. The railroads have agreed to give special rates and this of itself should assure a large attendance.

FOOTHILL RANCHES RAIDED BY SQUIRRELS

Campaign to Exterminate the Pest Is Soon to Be Inaugurated

Ground squirrels are making such raids on the ranches in the foothills in Fresno county that they have become a great menace; so much so that it is proposed to inaugurate a campaign to exterminate the pest.

When this campaign will begin has not yet been determined by County Horticultural Roulard, but he will have a conference with the ranchers who are suffering from the inroads of the little animals at an early day. The probabilities are that poison will be the method used to wipe the pest out but this has not been definitely decided on nor has it been determined whether the department will take up the matter alone or whether it will be a combination of the department and the rancher. In the event that the latter plan is decided upon the department will either take charge of the poison or will make some of the growers in the foothills depots for supplies of the poisoned grain which will be used in the extermination of the little rodent.

Thrilling Tales of Love and Adventure

Squaring Things Up

By Walt Gregg.

DOLLIVER nodded to Bain, and signaling the cashier to follow him, he led the way into his private office. He seated himself at his desk, and pushing an easy chair to Bain, lit a cigar while he fumbled over papers on his desk.

He was a short, stout man of middle age, was round and full, with spectacles, save for a glint in his gray, radiation eyes.

He was a robust man of thirty, having a ruddy face and a pair of brown eyes that gave evidence of strong and mental power.

He was studying the faces of the two men with a close scrutiny,

"You have been in this office two years?"

"Two years the first time," he said.

"That is the age when I bought the shares of the shares of the company and took charge of it," went on Dolliver. "I was not in this company, but I have made a mistake in return to my present position. I hope that you have your business with the one who could grasp a situation quickly and act promptly."

He was smiling, with a slight smile.

"Do you mean by that that we commit forgery?" asked Bain.

"Dead!" echoed Bain.

"It seems so; and being dead, some one should inherit his fortune, which seems to have been of little use to him. How does it strike you?"

"It strikes me as a very idiotic piece of robbery," replied Bain.

Judson Dolliver laughed.

"That is easily explained," he said.

"Dead!" echoed Bain.

"It seems so; and being dead, some one should inherit his fortune, which seems to have been of little use to him. How does it strike you?"

"It strikes me as a very idiotic piece of robbery," replied Bain.

Judson Dolliver laughed.

"I half suspected you would say that," he said.

"But I think you'll have reasons to change your mind by the time I have explained everything. Mr. Ezra Sparkling was lost, with some fifty others who met death when the train on the D. & G. railroad went through the bridge at Snake river. Here is a little clipping from a newspaper that may furnish some additional information." He handed the clipping to Bain, who read:

"Among the passengers on the train who met their death at the Snake river bridge disaster was Ezra Sparkling, a rather mysterious character who drifted about the country, never stopping long at any place and seeming to have neither friends nor relatives.

"Ezra Sparkling is worthless un-lessed by prompt action." He raised his eyes on the banker.

"What I have to speak of him?" he went on, "is a little more than a name in mine—something that has nothing to do with scarcely any interest in him. There were evidences on all sides of an unfamiliar and terrifying discipline.

"Ezra," he said, relenting, "he's not mine. But I gotter fess up." He colored hotly. "Miss Abel's name, 14, Golder's Square, Bloomsbury, London—Miss J. Abel."

This was Jane, the Grevance. It was to punish Jane that Nosey had dropped his eyes on the sea in ships.

Prior to this drastic step Nosey had been an errand-boy—a rather superior kind of errand-boy who went his rounds on a rambunctious bicycle with a carrier fixed in front.

Jane was a general servant in a Bloomsbury boarding-house. She it was who answered the area-door when Nosey called to deliver such kippers and smoked haddock as were destined for the boarding-house breakfast table.

It was hard to say in what respect Jane lit the flame of love within Nosey's breast. She was diminutive and flat-chested; her skin was sallow from life-long confinement in basement sculleries and the atmosphere of the Bloomsbury boarding house. She had little beady black eyes, and a print dress that didn't fit her at all well. Altogether, she was just the little unlovely slavey of action and the drama and everyday life in boarding house land.

Yet the fishmonger's errand boy—Orson Baines, by your leave, and Captain of his soul—loved her as Antony loved Cleopatra.

Once a fortnight, from 3 p. m. till 10 p. m., Jane tasted the penultimate Pictur' Palaces an' fried fish suppers an' all!" He referred to the sweets of their courtship. "Ow, Jane!"

Neither spoke much; at no time had they been great conversationalists, and now Jane, more diminutive and angu-lous than ever, lost in the folds of a flannel nightgown, was content to hold his hand as long as he was allowed to remain.

The past was ignored, or nearly so.

"You didn't order gone off like that," said Jane reflectively. "But I'm glad you're a sailor. You looks beautiful in them clothes. An' there's prospecks in the navy. Poor little Jane. She had 'prospecks' herself at last."

He left the few flowers he had brought with the sister of the card when the time came to leave. The nurse followed him into the corridor.

"Come and see her every visiting day you can," she said. "It does her good and cheers her. She often speaks of you."

Nosey returned to Portsmouth and his ship. His mess—the mess deck itself—was agog with rumors. Had he seen the "sun?" Nosey had not. "I'm going to London to see a friend," he explained. Then they told him.

The battle-cruiser to which he belonged had been ordered to join the Mediterranean Fleet. That was Monday; they were to sail for Malta on Thursday.

And Jane was dying in the Middlesex Hospital.

The next visiting day found him at Jane's bedside. But instead of his spick-and-span serge suit of "Number One" and carefully ironed blue collar, Nosey wore a rusty suit of "civvia." Instead of being clean-shaven, an inconsiderable moustache was feeling its way through his upper lip.

"Where's your sailor clothes?" asked Jane weakly.

"I'm not a sailor," he said.

"I'm not a sailor," he said again.

"I'm not a sailor," he said

FRENCH UNITE FORCES WITH SERBIAN ARMY

Little Kingdom Hard Pressed By Austro-Germans--Campaign Against Riga Continues

LONDON, Oct. 26, 2:10 a. m.—The Allies have asked the Serbian headquarters to resist the Teutons and Bulgarians for only five days more, by which time effective aid from the Allies will be forthcoming, says the Daily Telegraph's Nish correspondent under date of today. The correspondent adds that, judging by the fine spirit the Serbian troops are displaying, they can hold out double that time.

LONDON, Oct. 26 3:00 a. m.—The Bureau of Rumania, correspondent of the Times sends the following: "Serbian troops have withdrawn from the neighborhood of the Danube, and the Austrians have crossed the river traversing the island of Odrava. The Austrian forces will soon obtain free passage through Bulgaria from Ioniki-Nish railway across the Serbian Greek frontier.

This success places the Bulgarians who reached Isrip, Yelce and Uzup, in rather an awkward position, for a further advance of the Allies in any direction would seriously threaten the Balkans. In fact, official reports state that the advance of the French, who are being closely followed by the British, has already caused the retirement of the Bulgarians toward Strumitsa.

The first desire of the Germans, however, is to open a route through north-eastern Serbia and Bulgaria to Turkey, and this is on the eve of being accomplished.

Serbian Advantages

On the other hand, military writers here do not believe that the position of Serbia is so desperate as has been painted. It is serious, of course, but they point out that the Serbians have many natural defensive positions in the mountains in which they can hold out for weeks; that while the French and other members of the quadruple power carrying out their determination to help Serbia by rushing reinforcements to Salonic and other points, the Bulgarians will have an extremely warm reception and that the Germans and Turks, being fully occupied, will not be able to send them much help.

British correspondents in France have just disclosed the fact, made known to them by the British staff, that even after the Anglo-French offensive in September, the Germans had the greatest difficulty in securing new reinforcements to meet that advance, and had to call upon men just returned from Russia for rest, to fill the gaps in the western army. From this it is argued that the Germans cannot spare a great many men for the Serbs, and according to French accounts have inflicted a severe defeat on the Bulgarians at Krivolak, forty miles north of the point where the Sionje, but were stopped on the borders of the forest west of Isrip.

"Enemy attempts to make progress to the east of the village of Pochinak, and toward the south of Isrip, were repulsed."

"South of Lake Mezoun, the artillery fighting is very violent. There are also artillery duels on the Demen and Dreswiaty lakes. On the front of Lakes Dreswiaty, Boginatole, Bladzio, Narotole and Vichnevskoie, engagements have occurred at many points, but without appreciable result for either side. Among the more important encounters was that near the village of Isrip, west of Lake Boginskole, where the enemy was dislodged. Another encounter resulted in the capture by our troops of the village of cPitrochka, west of Kosiany."

Threats of Reprisal

BERLIN, Oct. 25, via wireless to Tuckerton, N. J.—The Overseas News Agency says:

"The Nord Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung reports that the German government has transmitted through a neutral power its answer to the Russian government's threat to shoot German prisoners of war in districts where dum-dum bullets have been used. The German government stated that the dum-dum bullets have been or will be used by German soldiers. If the Russian government shoots German soldiers under false accusations of using such bullets Germany will take the most severe reprisals."

"The German government further states that reprisals will be the easier because Russians captured by the Germans have confessed they have used dum-dum bullets."

Apologetics to Swiss

BERLIN, Oct. 25, via Paris.—(11 a. m.)—The federal government announces that the German minister has expressed his government's deep regret for the act of a German aviator in dropping bombs recently on Chaux de Fonds, and has promised to pay indemnity for the death or injury of Swiss citizens or damage to property.

The minister explained that the aviator who dropped the bombs had lost his way and believed he was over French territory. He and his observer have been punished and transferred.

French and Italian

The Italians, by their offensive, are compelling the Austrians to strengthen their lines, and the French, by the capture today of a strongly fortified sector north of Le Mans, in Champaign, have shown that they have not yet finished their effort to break through. The French success is considered important, because the capture of this fortified area clears the way for another general offensive in Champaign.

For the same reason, the British are trying to force the Germans out of their redoubts, and the Belgians have to the south of La Bassie. These, however, are only preparatory operations, while the Italians are in the midst of a great offensive which has already gained for them many valuable vantage points, and, according to Rome dispatches, may any day place them in possession of the fortress of Gorizia.

The Russians are fighting pitched battles in the Riga and Drivne regions in an effort to retake the ground won from them by Field Marshal von Hindenburg last week. The Russian attacks southeast of Riga have been repulsed, according to the Germans, as were those undertaken northwest of Drivne. The British forces, however, which crossed the Honkst north of the town of the same name withdrew in the face of a superior Russian army.

It is also claimed by the Germans that Russian attacks in the lake district south of Drivne were repulsed, and that the Austrians have broken through the Russian lines over a front of more than four kilometers, (24 miles) west of Komarov.

The German campaign in Courland is being interfered with by British and Russian submarines, which have stopped mercantile traffic to the Baltic ports, and one of which have sunk the Prinz Adalbert, the sixth armored cruiser lost by Germany since the commencement of the war.

French Report

PARIS, Oct. 25, 10:30 p. m.—The official communication issued tonight reads:

"The enemy violently counter-attacked in Champaign along the whole of the front of the fortified position La Courtine. We remain in possession of the positions taken to the east and to the west, the Germans having succeeded in re-occupying in the center only some portions of the trenches, where the battle continues with greatest desperation."

PARIS, Oct. 25, 3:15 p. m.—An important success by the French troops in the Champaign district is announced by the French war office this afternoon.

In spite of a fierce resistance, French troops, following a preparatory artillery fire, occupied an important position known as La Courtine. The losses of the Germans are described as serious and the French took 200 prisoners.

The text of the communication follows:

"In the Champaign district our troops yesterday won an important success. The enemy occupied, in front of their second position, a salient very strongly organized which had resisted all previous attacks. In the southwestern part of the northern slopes of Hill No. 136, at a point two kilometers to the north of Melsis les Hurlus, this salient included a very important position called La Courtine which we have captured. La Courtine extended for a distance of 1,200 yards with an average depth of 100 yards and including three or four lines of trenches connected up with underground tunnels and the customary communication trenches, all of which were organized for defense."

In spite of the thoroughness of the German defensive works and the ferocity shown by the German soldiers our men were successful. The losses of the enemy were serious and they left in our hands 200 prisoners belonging to three different regiments."

Bulgarian Report

SOFIA, Oct. 25 via London, 3:45 p. m.—An official communication issued here concerning the capture of Usrip, Serbia, by the Bulgarians follows:

"Our troops inflicted a decisive defeat on the Serbian troops in the neighborhood of Usrip. We finally occupied the town. The enemy was thrown back on the Katschakit delte. Our troops are pursuing."

BERLIN, Oct. 25.—It is reported from Petrograd that the Russian authorities have ordered all refugees in Moscow and Kiev to depart," says the Overseas News Agency.

"The Moscow authorities who had taken relief measures, opposed this action, urging that the 100,000 refugees not be exposed to new misery. Nevertheless, the order was issued."

LONDON, Oct. 25.—As a result of the activity of British submarines in the Baltic, the rate of Swedish war insurance on ships bound for German ports has been doubled, a Copenhagen dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company states.

BERLIN, Oct. 25, via London.—Only a small part of the crew of the German cruiser Prinz Adalbert, man by a British submarine in the Baltic, was rescued.

BERLIN, Oct. 25.—The probable resignation of the Russian minister of railroads is being discussed, says a report from Copenhagen. "The reason lies in the fact that they arrived lately in Moscow a company of bitter winterers in view of much needed food supplies. Railway employees were briefly given preference for the conveyance of water."

"Near Drivne in the region east of Krasnodar, there were small engagements on the Drivne river. On the left bank of the Drivne, northwest of Krasnodar and in the forest region west of Livenkof, there have been only actions by small detachments."

HOW MELLER CRUSHED RAIL COMPETITION

Forced Big Connections to Deal Exclusively With New Haven

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Letters to end from Charles E. Meller, which he handed to the jury today in the trial of eleven New York, New Haven and Hartford directors on the charge of monopolizing New England's transportation traffic, furnished written evidence of the steps taken by the New Haven road to crush its principal competitor, the New York and New England Railroad Com-

The letters, dating back to 1892 and 1894, set forth the action taken by the New Haven to require the payment of freight charges by the New England on traffic interchanged between the two roads at connecting points, and the steps taken to induce the trunk lines running outside of New England to route the traffic over the New Haven instead of over the New England road which had connected with them by way of the Poughkeepsie bridge over the Hudson river.

"Your whole intention seems to be to drive us out of business, if you can," wrote H. C. Randolph, then general traffic manager of the New England to Meller protesting against the requirement for the payment of freight charges. This was at a time when the witness had previously testified, the New England's finances were on the "ragged edge."

"Was that prepayment rule applied to the other roads?" asked Frank L. Stauffer, the examining attorney for the government.

"Well, that was no long ago that I don't remember," replied the witness. It is the government's contention that the rule was devised for the sole purpose of injuring the New England.

The New Haven, subsequent letters revealed, had a traffic arrangement with the Pennsylvania railroad for its through traffic in and out of New England and began negotiations with the Lehigh and New York, the Jersey Central, the Reading and the Baltimore and Ohio, to set their business also, but only on condition that they should cease sending it by the New England road's route. To this, it was agreed in one letter, the Pennsylvania acquiesced, whereupon Stephen, vice president in charge of traffic, wrote Charles P. Clark, at that time president of the New Haven, on January 25, 1894.

"This business is coming in by the lines of our bitterest antagonist, the Pennsylvania, is our favored connection, first, last, and all the time, but we should not be obliged to forego business that helps us, weakens our antagonist, and does no harm to them, (the Pennsylvania.)"

"The business referred to," explained Meller, in his testimony, "was the New England's business via the Poughkeepsie bridge. I was trying to get it transferred to our line. That was what I was paid for and in my ignorance of the way things ought to be done, that is what I did."

Subsequent letters showed that the roads mentioned agreed to give up their Poughkeepsie bridge route, and that arrangements were made for Long Island Sound steamboat connections with them as well. The reading, it appeared, was the last to come into the arrangement. Meller wrote that he was willing to let the Reading in "as soon as it is willing to become exclusively our line into New England."

"THE CLANSMAN" CLOSES AT WHITE TOMORROW

Scene From "The Clansman"—Lillian Gish In President Lincoln's Office—Now At White

The Clansman or the birth of a nation. D. W. Griffith's wonderful photoplay of the Civil War period, which has had such a successful run at the White theater, will close its present engagement with performances tonight and tomorrow night, and an evening on Wednesday, according to "The Clansman" bill. In point of vividness, historical value and elaborate action has ever been produced.

In the twelve reels embracing the period it is given before, during and after that great crisis in American history, the Civil War. The great battles are shown in minute detail and the scenes portray thousands of soldiers in grim death struggle, and if the portrayal seems too vivid, too real, it is to the credit of the art that it is in honor and impartial peace promoted.

Orpheum

Ruth Kilbourn and Adolf Blaue, who appear on the Orpheum bill which opens Thursday night at the White theater, are giving something out of the ordinary in their act. The two stars of the bill have come from the stage and the people have turned their way to find and appreciate the modern and full.

Among the others on this week's bill are: The Sixteen Navajo Girls; Eugene Diamond, the monarch of violinists; Brooks and Bowen, in song and patter; and Little Beemer, assisted by A. R. Ross, in comic sketches.

The bill will be concluded with two reels of motion pictures.

ACTOR WILL CATCH DIABLO FROM TOP OF GRIFFITH BUILDING

This Remarkable Feat Will Take Place at 3 o'Clock This Afternoon

A member of the Alpha Troupe, now showing at the Empire theater, will catch a diablo, tossed from the top of the Griffith-McKenzie building, Fresno's highest structure. The diablo will be thrown from the roof of the building by another member of the troupe, and will be received on the sidewalk below by means of an instrument used for manipulating diablos, i.e., a piece of string fastened to two sticks. The public exhibition will take place on Mariposa street at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

The new bill, that opened at the Empire theater on Sunday afternoon, lived up to, and we might easily say, surpassed its advance press notices, as it certainly is a splendid little show from start to finish. The enormous crowds, which were of evidence at the cozy little theater on Sunday night, were loud in voicing their praise of all acts, and judging from the enthusiastic ovation accorded each turn, everybody felt that they had been given the full value of their money, if not more.

Heading the program is the Alpha Troupe, three men, and a lady, offering a juggling act, that keeps the audience in a state of continual excitement, the tricks being done with such dexterity and accuracy, to hold the attention of every individual. One of the men in a comic make-up, does comic bits during the turn, that provide much fun. Hoops are used mostly, however, skillful manipulation of the diablo is also shown to good advantage. Some decided new tricks are seen, and the act is so intensely interesting, that one really can not catch his breath from the opening of the act to the finale. The Alpha Troupe have played the best circuits in the country, having appeared in the Orpheum theaters only recently, and closing a bill of class, they were loudly applauded.

Hugo Lutgens, who gives impersonations of minstrels, is a big favorite of the present bill. He kept the house in an uproar, in his monologue being so vastly different, and so extremely humorous. His imitation of the Swedish minister is a "scream," particularly the portion devoted to the lecture on the "shoo-ing gum" evil. As an encore Mr. Lutgens told a Swedish story, about a lumberman who had been discharged by his employer, the notice of dismissal being presented in writing. A few days later, when seen back on the job, the employee explained his presence by stating that on the outside of the envelope he read "Return in 5 days to Minnesota Lumber company." His act was the laughing hit.

Dorothy Vaughn, a cheerful singing comedienne, offering all exclusive material, especially written for her and very nicely to the program. She has a very pleasing personality, and her manner of delivery is excellent. Miss Vaughn is possessed of a sweet voice, and her perfect annunciation is a big asset in assisting her to "put over" the comedy numbers she offers. She was well liked.

Hicks & Seymour, man and woman, are seen in a singing, talking and dancing novelty, that provides ten minutes of real-entertaining entertainment. Some bright talk is used, producing many good laughs, and the turn is completed with a dance by the duo, in which the member finds it difficult to execute the steps done by his partner, however, at the conclusion of the act, he accomplished a feat, that might be termed impossible, according to the laws of gravity. Their offering was applauded vigorously.

In addition to this classy vaudeville bill, Nat C. Goodwin is seen in the five-reel Premo feature photo-drama, "The Master Hand." It is an interesting picture, showing a thrilling automobile accident, and Mr. Goodwin's popularity the world over, makes the picture a most successful production. There are many children seen in this playlet, and it rounds out a very enjoyable show.

On the coming bill opening Wednesday, Nell Miller, a Fresno girl, will be one of the feature attractions, in a singing, dancing and instrumental act. Don't miss the new bill.

Even the youngsters did their share in advertising to the world, the enthusiasm of Fresno at the District Fair, for they and their antics have been featured in the Pathé Daily being shown today at the Kinema.

On Children's Day, some 7000 youngsters while enjoying the many privileges of the Fair, were snapped by the Pathé cameraman, thousands of them wearing the Indian war bonnets given them by the Fresno Republican, making quite an attractive sight.

Other views of the Fair contribute to many good and serious complications, the strength of character that prompts Captain Amos Barton's confession, and the trust of his relatives and associates, provided material for a story powerful in its intensity, and rich in simple beauty.

It is estimated that some forty million persons will see these views and be reminded of the activities of the five little towns called Fresno.

SANTA FE PAVING NEARLY FINISHED

Auto busses which meet the Santa Fe trains and trucks which deliver and receive freight from the Santa Fe depot will not be bothered with mud the coming winter. The space back of the passenger depot and back of the freight depot and extending to Santa Fe avenue and between the two structures is being paved. The foundation and concrete work is completed and the asphalt will be poured next Sunday.

The entire space will be paved and ready for travel in two weeks, according to announcement made at the Santa Fe office yesterday.

MAKING OF "MOVIES" EXPOSED AT KINEMA

Lillian Gish, Who Appears In Griffith's Gun-Fighting "Muskeeteers of Pig Alley"—Kinema Today

If you prefer the thrills of a gun fight in congested New York, or are curious about the inside workings of the motion picture studio, or even have a leaning to the works of Ibsen, or wish comedy—they are all on the program today at the Kinema and await your approval.

Lillian Wrote Gangsters at Their Own Game

Griffith shows his genius by accentuating the intense brutality of the gunman by contrasting him, his actions and ideals with the dablist of actresses. Lillian Gish, in his latest sketch, "The Musketeers of Pig Alley."

Here he shows his deftness at rapid action combined with suspended excitement, and when the end of the story comes, you suddenly awaken to the fact that a war has been fought with the New York police in its midst, and that the would-be ruffian hero loses out in his quest for Lillian.

A Gripping Scene From "The Girl From Out Yonder"—At Theater Fresno

The Theater Fresno has a "surefire" dramatical production this week in "The Girl From Out Yonder" which began its engagement at the local play house last evening, under the most favorable and auspicious conditions.

Notwithstanding the simplicity of the story that is told through stage characters, and the medium of realistic scenic effects, this play is undoubtedly the most pleasing that has been produced by the Post Players, and will surely act as a climbing argument in favor of making this company of dramatists a unit in Fresno's civic and social advancement.

Not Without Pathos and Pleasantries!

Contrary to the name suggested by the title, "The Girl From Out Yonder" is in a drama of the past, and receives its name from the fact, that across the toady sea, to a distant island where the beacon light shines to warn mariners of danger, lives a beautiful girl who, in love, and beloved by a successful bushman in New York, who cannot marry, the choice of his heart, because his foster father has confessed to the killing of his father.

While the self-confessed crime is responsible for many good and serious complications, the strength of character that prompts Captain Amos Barton's confession, and the trust of his relatives and associates, provided material for a story powerful in its intensity, and rich in simple beauty.

From this Fair, Fresno seems to be advertising for last week, the Pathé had quite a section devoted to the automobile races. This week the Rodeo and Children's Day, while next week the Mutual Weekly will contain other comprehensive views of many of the events.

It is estimated that some forty million persons will see these views and be reminded of the activities of the five little towns called Fresno.

SUGGESTS WAY TO RELIEVE CONGESTION*Honolulu Woman Sees Use for Wide Van Ness Boulevard

Mrs. E. E. Thompson, resident of Honolulu and extensive world traveler, who is in Fresno with her husband, prominent corporation lawyer of Hawaii, and a party of motorists now touring the state by motor, sees in the wide Van Ness boulevard the solution of the congestion caused by the parking of auto mowers and other vehicles.

The street, employed in St. Paul and several other Eastern cities, could very well be employed here, Mrs. Thompson said yesterday.

According to Mrs. Thompson's idea, Van Ness boulevard, between Fresno and Tulare streets, could be divided in the center and the cars parked, back to back, at right angles to the center line. This space would be sufficient to relieve the congestion, she believes, and also would not interfere with the parking of pedestrians near the property about the court house.

BAKERSFIELD STARTS FIGHT UPON SALOONS

Petition Started for Sunday and Early Closing; Also Prohibition

BAKERSFIELD. Oct. 25.—What is predicted will be a hard fought wet and dry campaign, was started this afternoon with the circulation of three petitions for initiative ordinances, which will be presented to the city council in the future, providing for the Sunday closing of saloons, the closing of saloons at 10 o'clock p. m. instead of 1 a. m., and the abolishing of retail saloons altogether. The drawing up of the petitions was caused by the failure of the city council to accept a clause in the proposed liquor ordinance closing the saloons on Sunday. The council stood four to three on the matter.

Steps were taken immediately by various citizens to rouse the matter to the people. It was decided to test the strength of the wet and dry forces by also bringing up the abolishment of saloons at the same time. In this way, the people will have an opportunity to vote for two different saloon regulations or on the question of prohibition should the petitions have the required number of signatures.

Pfeifferman; Tax collector and assessor—E. B. Gould; treasurer, McKee Moan.

The next step in the organization will be the voting of bonds, as the supervisors have now done everything that lays with them. The 17,000 acres of land included within the district will vote bonds of $100 an acre or $1,700,000 payable in four years. The date for this election will be announced later.

An Old, Family Cough Remedy, Home-Made

Mostly Prepared—Costs Very Little, but in Present, Rare and Effective

By making this sort of old-time cough at home you not only save about 50¢, as compared with the ready-made kind, but you will have a more pleasant medicine, and it is far more effective. The original recipe is as follows: Take two whole oranges—preferably one whooping cough variety—and boil them, 100° of brandy, a sprig of nutmeg, and a sprig of cloves. Boil perfectly and taste.

Get from any drug store 150 grains of Pinos (150 grains of starch), pour it into a pint bottle and add the orange juice, brandy and cloves. Seal perfectly and taste.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. It quickly becomes the dry, hoarse or painful cough and heals the inflamed membranes. It also has a remarkable effect in overcoming the persistent loose cough by stopping the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes.

The effect of this on the membranes is known by almost every one. There is now no substitute for this. It is a special remedy for children, infants, and other natural builders with glands.

There are many worthwhile indications of the famous mixture. To avoid disappointment, get your druggist for "1% extract of Pinos" and do not accept anything else.

FORBIDS DECISIONS IN RITCHIE-DUNDEE BOUT

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Hopes of boxing enthusiasts that a decision would be permitted by the State Boxing commission at the Ritchie-Dundee bout for the American lightweight championship tomorrow night, were shattered tonight.

Fred A. Wonok, chairman of the state commission announced that until two additional members of the commission had been appointed by Governor Whitman and the governor consulted regarding his attitude toward decisions, the commission will not consider the question. When the additional designations to the commission will be made is unknown.

Until the Frawley law, the commission has the power to permit decisions whenever it desires. Wonok favors decisions. Since his appointment a month ago, agitation for them has been widespread.

Without decisions, Dundee's only hope of landing the championship lies in scoring a knockout.

AUSTRALIANS TO HAVE TROPHY IN MEMORY OF TENNIS STAR

Holder of Davis Cup, Anthony Wilding, Was Killed by German Shell at Flanders.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Recent dispatches from Sydney, Australia, say that subscriptions are to be received notwithstanding the disturbing effects of the war—by the Australasian Lawn Tennis Association to establish a fund; the interest from which will be used for a trophy to perpetuate the memory of the late Capt. Anthony F. Wilding of New Zealand, who was with Norman E. Brooker of Australia, a holder of the Davis Cup. The cup was required for Australasia by the pair in the United States in 1914. Wilding enlisted in the British army shortly after the outbreak of the war and was killed in Flanders by the effect of a German shell a few months ago. It is the intention of the Association to give the Wilding trophy, whatever form it may take, annually to the winner of the Australasian singles championship.

The fall tennis meets will become an established feature of Fresno county "athletics" is the prediction of A. O. Warner, who has been a leading figure in tennis competitions here for the last ten years. "An advantage of the fall meets is the opportunity it has given to select the strongest county players for the San Joaquin Valley tournaments to be staged here in the spring of the year."

AMENDMENTS AND REFERENDUMS BEFORE PEOPLE FOR VOTE TODAY

Polls Open at 6 o'Clock This Morning; Will Close at 7 o'Clock Tonight; No Changes Made in Precincts; List of County Polling Places

Nine constitutional amendments and two referendums are before the people of California today for adoption or rejection. Campaigns for and against the various measures came to a close yesterday and interested people on both sides will devote all their time to getting out the vote.

The polls will be open at 6 o'clock this morning and will close at 7 o'clock tonight.

The non-partisan election measures, submitted to the voters by referendum, have been by far the most widely discussed and as a result the vote on these will undoubtedly be greater than on any of the constitutional amendments.

This is a legal holiday, under the state law, but with the exception of banks and city and county offices, it will not otherwise be observed. The schools will not close. The saloons will also be closed until 7 o'clock this night.

There have been no changes in precincts for this election, the making it unnecessary for those who registered in 1914 to register again for some other reason. They have become disengaged. Nearly all the polling places are the same as they were in 1914.

The ballot is comparatively short and election officers do not look forward to a great deal of hard work. Other efforts will be made to bring out voters. It is not expected that the general vote of the county will be very heavy. In fact, a rather light vote is looked for all over the state.

The following is a list of the polling places in the precincts of Fresno county:

EASTERN FARMERS' SPECIAL TO ARRIVE IN FRESNO TODAY

City Will Extend Welcome With Auto Tours and Meetings On Two-day Visit; At Hanford This Morning

Fresno will welcome the Santa Fe Farmers' Special today.

The excursion train with 117 farmers who are inspecting the farming possibilities in California, will arrive at 2:45 o'clock this afternoon. They will remain here until late to-morrow night. The members will be royally received and entertained during their visit to Fresno.

The party visited Bakersfield, Tulare, Visalia and Lindsay yesterday.

They will visit Hanford and the surrounding country this morning. Visits will be made through the farming districts and all the possibilities of the country will be shown to the Easterners.

A feature of the entertainment at Hanford will be a lunch at 12:45 o'clock in the Courthouse park. After boarding the train, the party will come directly to Fresno.

All local arrangements are complete. Announcement to this effect was made yesterday by N. R. Cooper of the Fresno County Convention committee. Various citizens of Fresno have guaranteed automobiles to entertain the visitors and to show them through the outlying country.

Following the arrival of the special automobile parade will be formed, the procession of automobiles will lead through the city and will finally end at the Gugenheim Packing company plant. Here the visitors will be shown the various processes employed in handling the fruit products of the San Joaquin Valley. Various authorities on fruit conditions will deliver lectures in connection with the visit to the plant.

Concluding the packing house visit, the procession of automobiles will lead out to Kearney boulevard for a visit to Kearney Park. During the early part of the evening the visitors will be received at the V. M. C. A. where they will have access to the baths and will be enabled to arrange for the evening. They will be the guests of the Kinney theater at 8 o'clock.

A comprehensive trip through the Fresno district with lunch at the head-gates, taking up the greater portion of the day, and a public program with speaking, music and moving pictures of local interest, will be the feature for the evening at Municipal Auditorium.

The civic center of this city was the first object visited and then down Nineteenth street and out to the bluffs where a short stop was made. Mr. Barlow made a short talk and explained what the visitors were seeing. At the bluffs a view of the Kern river was had and a distant one of the oil fields with a forest of rigs looming up against the horizon.

The itineray usually followed in showing visitors the near by country was followed today, the visitors examining remarkable oil and water wells, fertile alfalfa, prune, beet, sugar and orange lands. They were surrounded at the variety of agricultural industries and unable apparently to realize the summed weather at this season of the year.

"Talk about a little dust," remarked T. L. Hammond of Hillsdale, Mich. "Why in Michigan it's snowing, and so cold you couldn't ride 50 miles in an auto at all now through the country."

J. W. Mensinger of Pratt, Kansas, an experienced photographer, is with the party and took a large number of views of Bakersfield and vicinity generally. His opinion of this country is a good one and while he went towards views and the photographic art, he said that the view from the bluffs was one of the finest he had ever seen.

A. R. Osterberg, of the Santa Fe colonization department, is with the party and watches out to see that they all make their train and takes care of them generally. The train is made up of six coaches and a baggage car.

"California is a wonder and all that has been claimed for it," they said all in accord, marveling also at the metropolitan appearance of Bakersfield when expecting to see a typical oil town.
